

SCOTLAND'S GLAMOROUS GLOSSY

Our CEO Fiona McKenzie Shortlisted for National Award.

Scotland's No.1 magazine celebrates everything that Scottish women stand for and their 'Amazing Woman Awards' return for a second year on the 7th of March 2019, held in the Old Fruitmarket Glasgow, the day before International Women's Day.

'Amazing Community Contribution' recognises individuals who go above and beyond to deliver positive outcomes across their communities and we are delighted to see Fiona recognised in this category.

Fiona said, "It's a real privilege to be shortlisted for the award. Building community is at the heart of all we work to achieve at Centrestage and I am so proud of everyone across our #oneteam who goes above and beyond to make so much happen every single day."

The special night provides the platform to showcase the amazing achievements of women across Scotland, from sporting and business awards to caring for the environment. The event will celebrate remarkable women from all walks of life, celebrating their achievements.

We congratulate everyone recognised and hope they enjoy a wonderful evening of celebration.
